

MCGILL'S SECURITY

K-9 PATROL SERVICES

Your Business is Facing Unique Challenges

The National Insurance Crime Bureau and the National Equipment Register reveal the cost of construction site crime to be between $300m and $1b annually.

Less than 25% of stolen construction materials are ever recovered.

The most commonly stolen items from construction sites are copper (and other metals), lumber, small/hand tools, power tools, and heavy machinery.

Most thefts occur in laydown areas or where the equipment spends most of its time. A high volume of theft occurs in areas without security coverage.

The need for reliable, knowledgeable, professional, and local security experts has never been higher.

Meet Our Leadership

Terry McGill CEO, Founder, Owner

Terry McGill was born and raised in San Francisco in the 1970s & 1980s. Being an alumnus of Galileo High School and San Francisco City College, Terry has deep roots in the City and knows the Bay Area better than most. In his younger years, he was introduced to the security industry, working as a guard/shift lead at the Hilton Hotel and bouncer at the Bank Exchange. Having these early experiences in the security field gives Terry a sixth sense when protecting people, property, and establishments, a quality he likes to instill in all his staff. Terry grew up as an avid hunter and dog lover, drawing inspiration from his father. When deciding to start his own company in 2012, Terry knew he had to incorporate his love for dogs and his passion for K-9s. Since its establishment, Terry has grown McGill's Security & K-9 Patrol Services to be the only security company in the Bay Area specializing in highly trained K-9s and disciplined K-9 Handlers.

Shawn McGill Vice President

Shawn McGill (son of Terry McGill) also grew up in San Francisco and attended Lowell High School & Burton High School before graduating from San Francisco State University. Shawn followed in his father's footsteps with his love for dogs and took a hands-on approach to train K-9s and K-9 handlers. Having majored in Criminal Justice Studies, Shawn has a unique viewpoint on motivations behind most crimes, a skill he has utilized extensively in keeping clients safe and secure. Shawn takes pride in going the extra mile for clients, acting as a second layer of defense and backup for all staff employed at job sites, and ensuring they are well-equipped to perform their duties to the best of their abilities. Shawn is always on the front lines, so to speak, providing all of his staff are comfortable and confident in their duties, adding an extra layer of security to ensure McGill's Security & K-9 Patrol Services clients are satisfied with services.

Our Team In Action

At McGill Security & K-9 Patrol Services, our commitment to safeguarding your assets is unwavering. Our team members are not just security guards but vigilant defenders of your property, equipped with the expertise and dedication needed to deter crime effectively.

Allow us to share a real-life account that represents our professionalism and diligence:

"During my routine patrol of a job site, I encountered suspicious activity near the gated area where expensive tools are stored. Two individuals were attempting to cut the lock off the gate. Without hesitation, I took action, shining my flashlight on the intruders and loudly announcing, 'Security, this is private property!' In response to my intervention, the individuals hastily abandoned their efforts and fled toward a white work truck parked nearby. Despite their attempt to escape, I captured several photographs of the individuals and the truck's license plate before contacting the local authorities per protocol."

Thanks to our swift response and detailed documentation, law enforcement apprehended the individuals involved, who were later revealed to be laborers employed at the jobsite, attempting theft after hours. Our proactive security measures not only prevented the theft of valuable tools but also facilitated the apprehension of the perpetrators.

At McGill's Security & K-9 Patrol Services, we take pride in our role as security industry leaders. Our vigilant patrol services are just one example of our commitment to excellence and effectiveness in deterring crime.

Choose McGill Security & K-9 Patrol Services as your trusted security partner, and rest assured, knowing that your property is in capable hands.

With McGill's Security & K-9 Patrol Services, you can trust that your security needs are met with professionalism, diligence, and effectiveness.
